Re: Anatomy of a Qualified Domestic Relations Order-A Comparative Analysis

Dear Mark:

It was a pleasure, once again, working with you. We were delighted with how well Anatomy of a Qualified Domestic Relations Order-A Comparative Analysis went and the great reviews received. You obviously were able to appeal to attorneys with different levels of experience by blending "hard information" and anecdotal illustrations in just the right combination. Thank you for all your hard work as a course planner. This quality seminar truly speaks to your fine leadership and faculty selection.

Your lively exchanges with fellow panelists added to the "spark" of the program and your insights and perspective were invaluable. We are indebted to you for lending your time and talents and for generously sharing your knowledge and expertise. Thanks so much for joining the team and for devoting so much to the development of this project.

We welcome your feedback regarding this project and have enclosed a faculty comment form for you to complete and return at your convenience. We would appreciate any suggestions you might have about future presentations.

It is always a pleasure working with you; we look forward to doing so again.

Warmest regards,

Harry D. Owens, Jr., Esquire
